

Solidus Randy 250 – Solid State Amplifiers

(AAX, AU, CLAP, VST2, VST3)

produced by Luca Capozzi (Audiority Srls), October 2020

Current Manual version: v1.2

Solidus Randy 250 is an analog simulation of the Randall® RG100ES (late '80s) and RH150 (late '00s) solid state amplifiers.

The RG100ES head, produced in the late 80s, has been a remarkable amplifier that defined the sound of some of the greatest metal bands of that time, while the RH150 is a more modern rendition with much more gain. Both amplifiers are renowned for their huge low end and crushing gain.

Integrated cabinet provided by Dr Bonkers Sound Lab, Eddie Scharr, Redwirez and Seacow Cabs
